

Big Waves Will Rise You

Original title: Big Waves Will Rise You

After a decade of suffering from complex regional pain syndrome (CRPS), 20-year-old Sam opts to have her right leg amputated. Two years on, her zest for life is undiminished. She is keen to make up for lost time and realise her surfing dreams. Unfortunately, her condition flares up again. A doctor asks her: "Do you want to be young, or do you want to be cured?" Together with her parents, she continues her search for a treatment, while preparing the next trip with her all-girl surf tribe.
