

White Cube

Original title: White Cube

In a time in which the debt held by Western museums which have been financed by forced labour on confiscated land - the plantation - becomes ever more apparent, this documentary testifies to an unlikely new beginning. White Cube follows the Cercle d'Art des Travailleurs de Plantation Congolaise (CATPC), a plantation workers' co-operative located on a former Unilever plantation in Lusanga, Democratic Republic of Congo. The film documents their success in ending the destructive system of monoculture on their lands.
